Happy Holidays

At the closing of the GJHS's sixteenth year, we want to wish everyone a Happy Thanksgiving, a Merry and Blessed Christmas, and a prosperous and healthy New Year.

February Meeting

James Wheeler will have a presentation he calls "Honoring Their Valor." It will center on the men and women in uniform, especially in aviation, who fought in conflicts back to WWII in which his aviator father made the ultimate sacrifice. His talk is in conjunction with the Historical Museum's next exhibit that features Mr. Wheeler's many aircraft and other related models he built, pictures, and memorabilia. After the presentation all are invited back to the museum to view the exhibit.

April Meeting

Anne Bader and her crew at Corn Island Archeology have been excavating the Beecher Terrace site in downtown Louisville. Since this is the one of the oldest areas in Louisville, they have unearthed some amazing objects. Anne is going to tell us all about the area's history - maybe more than just Beecher Terrace.

Want to know more about this this monument Anne Bader is standing next to? Where is it located? Not Louisville! You really don't know how excited she was to find it. Put April 1, 2019 on your calendar and come see!!

Meeting Times

For 2018 we moved the GJHS meeting time to early afternoon to see if attendance would increase. The main thought being in early afternoon driving to meetings would be easier, especially in rainy weather and in the winter months. The tradeoff was losing people who had to work. Our membership stands at 34.

When you look who signed in at the meetings, the result was a slight decrease overall - those who have to work during the day.

What is being considered is meeting in December, February, and April at 12:30 P.M. and June, August, and October at 7:00 P.M.

What I would like from all is your opinion on such a move. Please let me know by emailing me to plasticjtu@aol.com or call me at 502-491 6463.
